EASTERN NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

The Baltimore Fire.

New York, July 25.—A Herald special says the burned district is bounded by Mulberry, Liberty, Lexington and Howard streets, and comprises ten blocks, divided by Clay, Saratoga and Little Pleasant streets, running east and west, and by the Park running north and south. In [illegible] the total loss there is a wide diff[illegible] of opinion, some placing it as high as $800,000, but experienced insurance men to-night think that $500,000 or $600,000 will cover all loss. No loss of life attended the fire, either by burning or falling walls. It is reported that a woman fell dead on the street by excitement and alarm. About [illegible] houses were destroyed, and about [illegible] rendered homeless.

[illegible] the Baltimore Fire.

New York, July 26.—A Baltimore special says the fire [illegible] total portions of the burned district spread rapidly through the roofs, and [illegible] portions of whole rows scarcely [illegible]. This is supposed to be caused by the [illegible] of shingle roofs, which, being [illegible] dry, burned like grass. In this way the fire [illegible] crossed over a street in which the [illegible] continued to work, and left [illegible] of the fire brigade working in the [illegible] of the burning blocks. The water [illegible] exhausted before the fire was under [illegible] as to make it necessary to dam up the [illegible] and supply some engines.

[illegible] Fire of Fright.

The [illegible] was of no importance except in the case of [illegible] Rinaldia, a nun in the [illegible] of St. Alphonso's Church, who died [illegible]. Two [illegible] were injured by the explosion [illegible], but they will recover.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Cigar Makers' Protest.

Washington, July 25.—A delegation of cigar manufacturers visited the Commissioner of Internal Revenue to-day, to protest against his decision, pertaining to the manufacture of cigars. Mr. Straughton, of the National Tobacco Association, suggested the abolition of the cigar manufacturer's bond of $500, on the ground that many honest but poor manufacturers could not furnish the bond. The Commissioner requested that further explanation of the subject be submitted to him in writing for his future consideration. The Commissioner listened to the arguments of the delegates, and promised that he would endeavor to do justice to all.

Back-Pay Matters.

Washington, July 25.—Senator Sherman, who in a recently published letter says he did not intend to draw his back pay, or have anything to do with it, has changed his mind and drawn the amount due him, $4,336 40, and conveyed the same into the Treasury. This makes sixteen Senators who have returned to the Treasury their back pay, which amounts in the aggregate to $65,844 44. The Representatives Foster of Ohio, and Foster of Michigan, also conveyed their pay into the Treasury and this increased the list of names of members of the House who have acted in the same way to thirty-six. The total amount conveyed in by these thirty-six Representatives is $152,761 44.

NEVADA.

Elko, July 27.—At 5 o'clock this afternoon, an unknown man, crazy drunk, started in to clean out Garner's saloon. He drew a large jack knife and made for Mr. Garner, one of the proprietors, who gave him the contents of a derringer, hitting him in the hip. He then rushed to a stable about 200 yards from there, hunting a man, and came in contact with a wild mustang; striking at the horse with a knife, the horse kicked him in the head, bruising him badly. He is in a very precarious condition.

CALIFORNIA.

San Francisco, July 26.—The Liberal Reformers last night nominated Capt. James M. McDonald for Mayor, Monroe Ashbury for Auditor, Wm. Harney for County Clerk, Caleb T. Fay for Tax-Collector, Chief Police Crowley, T. C. Omens, Sheriff, Supt. Pub. Schools Jas. Denman; District Attorney, D. J. Murphy; T. P. Ryan, City Surveyor. [There are other nominations mentioned but unintelligible.]

A Chinese woman, name unknown committed suicide by taking a large dose of opium. Jealousy of another Chinawoman is the alleged cause.

Russell's funeral will take place to-day at 2 P. M., Rev. Drs. Carpenter, Cunningham and others officiating.

A city official is preparing an ordinance for the Board of Supervisors calculated to check and punish the system of buying and selling Chinese women in this city.

Weather warm; thermometer 70° in the shade at 11 A. M.

They have not got the pearl fishers' diving bell regulated yet. Yesterday it was sunk near Goat Island, with several men within it. The men above pumped too much air down, and the thing came up like a rubber ball, bouncing clear above the surface of the water, much to the astonishment of the divers and to their peril.

A man over 70 years of age appeared in the Police Court to-day accused by a young woman of having given her a terrible beating. She pretended to be almost unable to move. The court directed an examination by a physician, who found no marks of injury. It was proven on the contrary that she beat the old man seriously about the head with a cobble stone. He was released and the young woman sent to prison.

[illegible] Eldridge declines the taxpayers' nomination for Mayor, from business reasons.

San Francisco, July 27.—Weather cold, foggy and unpleasant, a sharp and disagreeable change from that of yesterday.

The funeral of Russel took place from the residence of Capt. Moore, on California street, and not from the Presbyterian church. A large crowd assembled there, however, expecting to witness the obsequies.

This afternoon a young man known as Gus, but who was a stranger in the city, hanged himself in the basement of a lager beer saloon on Kearney street. He was dead when discovered. He came to the saloon several days since and said he was out of money and half starved. The proprietor gave him food several times and finally obtained a place for him to work in the brewery. To-day, however, he went into the basement, procured a heavy rope, fastened it to a beam and around his neck, swung off and soon strangled. India ink marking on his arm indicate that he was a sailor by occupation. The wife of the proprietor, greatly alarmed, wants to move out of the house fearful of seeing the suicide's ghost. The Coroner has taken charge of the body.

The funeral of Jules Greenhood, who shot himself Thursday night took place this afternoon. It was largely attended by his friends and acquaintances and Apollo Lodge I. O. O. F., of which deceased was a member.

The city is very quiet to-day. The only arrest of importance was that of Charles C[illegible], accused of assaulting an officer while discharging his duty.

Interior California.

Pleasanton, July 25.—About 2 o'clock this afternoon a fire broke out in the buildings occupied by the C. P. R. R. Co., destroying both the freight and passenger depot. The origin of the fire is as yet unknown, but it is supposed to have been caused by some men who had taken refuge from the heat under the freight depot, and doubtless in lighting a pipe caused the conflagration. The trains were for some hours interrupted, but as soon as the intense heat had partially subsided, the track was gotten in condition to run trains with but little delay. W. U. T. Co.'s office was at one time in a dangerous condition, but owing to the strenuous efforts made, was saved. The C. P. R. R. Co.'s office was totally destroyed, and both Company's wires were for a time prostrated, but communication is again established, and before noon to-morrow we hope to have everything in working order. At present it is impossible to estimate the loss.

Sacramento, July 27.—At a quarter past five on Saturday evening Peter Connolly, an Irishman, 45 or 50 years of age, was found dead in the drainage canal on the corner of Sixth and W streets. When found the deceased was sitting in the canal, the water being about six or eight inches deep, without a hat and the fierce sun pouring down on his head. An inquest was held on the body to-day and the evidence adduced showed that deceased had been for two days employed with other laborers in cleaning out the canal. It had been remarked by some of the other men that he appeared sick and ill suited for such work, and about half an hour previous to the body being found, the deceased got out of the ditch telling Mr. Ryan, the contractor, that he was going to quit. He acted as though he was annoyed at something and went off. Nothing more was seen of him until his body was found by a boy who was taking horses to water. The jury returned a verdict that death was caused by being over-heated and generally debilitated.

Sheriff Matt Woods, of Yuba county, took an insane Chinaman to Stockton to-day.

Miss Nellie Webb, daughter of Nat'l Webb, slipped while getting out of a carriage at Thirteenth and F streets on Saturday and broke her leg between the ankle and knee.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

The object of the company is to construct a railroad from Seattle to Walla Walla. The large donation of land recently offered the Northern Pacific Railroad Company by the citizens of this county, as an inducement for that company to locate their terminus at this port, will be given to the Seattle and Walla Walla company.

RANDOLPH BLACK SAND GOLD MINES.

Randolph, Coos County, July 13, 1873.

Curry county abounds in coal mines and coal fields, and in choice lumber of the best kinds to a vast extent; the soil is rich and productive to an unusual degree, that raises cereals, vegetables and fruits of the best description and in great quantities in proportion to the extent cultivated. Flocks of sheep and herds of cattle are numerous and profitable. The land flows with milk and honey. The old settlers are successful, comfortable and happy; new ones are coming in rapidly and filling up the land. There is no county in the State that presents greater or more varied scenes of profitable industry. The coal miners, the lumbermen, the ship-builders, the farmers, the stock-raisers and the dairymen combine to make Curry county one of great industry and prosperity, and promises, in ten years, to be one of the richest in the State. Add to these advantages the gold mines of the county, and particularly

THE BLACK SAND GOLD MINES

On the coast and beach that are now just about being developed to the best advantage, and the future prosperity and wealth of this section of the State cannot be easily overestimated.

A prospecting party of the Coos Bay Mining Company discovered gold in the black sands of the beach in 1852, but thought it too fine in character and limited in quantity to pay. The same year a number of half-breeds discovered the black sand of what was afterwards called Whisky Run Creek to be very rich in gold. The rush to this place in 1853-4 was very great, and the amount of gold got was immense. Many individual miners washed as much as $1,000 a day. That year there were at least 5,000 miners working in and convenient to this creek. The town of Randolph, built half a mile south of the creek, with its numerous private residences, hotels, saloons and gambling houses, went up like magic. The town has now no existence. This creek and other rich sands were soon worked out; a large portion of the miners removed to other fields and left the beach black sands to be washed by those satisfied with small earnings. Some of the claims on the beach have been worked ever since, to more or less advantage, and not a few of them have been worked over several times. The gold comes from the ocean, and every high tide, particularly in winter, deposits a fresh supply of fine gold, which, if washed before carried out, pays well. Some of the claims on the beach, worked in the simplest manner, yield an average of $100 a month to each man during the winter months and in moderate paying quantities during the summer months also. When the new discovery of separating the gold from the sand is fully developed, there seems to be no limit to the yield of the gold from these black sands. It may be looked forward to with considerable confidence, as one of the great and permanent industries of the State, and of Coos county in particular, the profitable results of which cannot be estimated at present.

THE PIONEER MINE

Now owned by Messrs. Lane Brothers & Co., was discovered in the spring of 1866 by Mr. John Dame and A. H. Hirsch while on a prospecting tour. They took out a creek claim, but did not work it. Dame sold his interest to Hirsch for $100. The latter worked the creek for nearly two years and found the black sand lead. The richness of the lead and its great extent being established, Hirsch sold it to Mr. John Pershbaker, then of Marshfield, for $20,000; Mr. Joseph Perry and the late Mr. John Pershbaker became partners in the mine. These gentlemen held the mine for a year, opened it to some extent, and sold it to the present owners in 1869. The Messrs. Lane Brothers & Co. have spent a large amount of money, courage, energy and business capacity in opening the mine and making immense improvements to develop it to the best advantage. They have built a ditch and flume six miles long to bring a supply of water from Two Mile Creek and slough. They have cut a tail-race to the ocean, nearly two miles long and in some places fifty feet deep, to drain the mine and carry off the tailings. These are works of no ordinary magnitude and accomplished at great expense. This ditch and tail-race are now owned in common by the Pioneer and Eagle Mining Companies. The Pioneer mine is located a mile and a half from the ocean, and one mile from the Coquille river, at Mr. A. Pershbaker's store, to which there is a good wagon road. It is 170 feet above the level of the sea, and runs parallel with the coast. The lead is 350 feet wide from east to west, extends 1,500 feet in length north and south, and has an average of six feet in depth. It is covered with sixty feet of white sand and full-grown timber. The lead rests on a deposit of light-gray sand and underneath this sand is a deposit of blue clay. There are two main tunnels run into the mine; the first is 248 feet long, and the second is 60 feet. There are three branch tunnels from these. The black sand is taken out on cars, by means of railroad tracks that have such an easy incline that they can be sent out and taken in by hand. Up to this time 300 feet of the lead has been worked, leaving 1,250 feet intact. Although, according to the common process of washing and separating the gold, it was the best known up till lately, by which process not less than 8-10ths of the gold was lost, yet this mine has, during the last six years, paid all the working expenses and a large portion of the original purchase and improvements. The purchase and improvements amounted to not less than $45,000. The lead will last at least twenty-five years. Under the old process eight-tenths of the gold was lost, by the new mode of bailing, not more than one-tenth will be wasted. By the former method of separating the gold, the average gold saved was $2 to the ton; by the new mode an average of $15 a ton will be secured.

THE EAGLE MINING COMPANY

Is owned by Messrs. Lockhart, Moody & Co. It is located on the north side of the Pioneer mine, and was taken up by Mr. Lockhart in 1866. The lead is 2,400 feet long, north and south, 600 feet wide, east and west, and an average of six feet deep of black sand that will average $15 to the ton. The location of the mine is nearly similar to that of the Pioneer mine already described. Mr. Lockhart commenced operations in the fall of 1866; it took him ever since to reach the lead, the opening of which has cost the company $45,000. His unlimited confidence in the value of the lead, his indomitable energy and untiring perseverance are now to be amply rewarded. The lead is reached, the mine is in good working order, and the successful process of separating the rust from the gold by boiling being fully established, his fortune may be said to be made. There is no man connected with the black sand mines of the coast that deserves more credit than Mr. Lockhart. He has been an example of courage and energy, industry and enterprise amidst great difficulties and discouragements. During those seven years it was a continuous outlay of money without one cent of income from that source.

THE NEW MODE OF SECURING THE GOLD.

It was well known to all the leading men connected with the black sand mines of the coast, that eight-tenths of the gold was wasted by the ordinary modes of separating known to miners. The difficulty arose from the fact that the gold deposited in the black sand is coated with some marine, oily substance resembling rust, and that this coating prevents the quicksilver from blending with the gold, and thus the gold passes off in the sluicing and is lost. Numerous experiments were tried by Mr. Lockhart and others to meet this difficulty, but they all failed to meet the want. Some of the experiments were successful, but too expensive. Boiling the sand was suggested by more than one person, but never tried until Mr. A. Davidson visited Messrs. Lane Bros & Co.'s mine, to try some new experiments. The boiling process was suggested. Mr. Davidson went to experimenting with boiling at once, and after a few trials in an extemporized boiler and in a very simple manner, established beyond controversy the success of the mode. So successful were the experiments, that there was not a miner at Randolph that doubted the triumph. The experiments proved that one ton of sand yielded $10, that would only have produced $1 50 by the ordinary process. Another ton of sand yielded $14; and further experiments on the different qualities of sand for richness showed that the yield would average $15 to the ton, that never yielded more than an average of $2 to the ton under the most favorable circumstances. Furnaces were immediately built, small boilers of cast iron ordered, but at the first trial of cast iron boilers they bursted. Wrought iron boilers were then ordered by Mr. Lockhart to replace the ones made of cast iron; of their success there is not the least doubt. In the interval, Mr. Wright of the

TWO MILE CREEK BLACK SAND MINE

Had constructed a wrought iron boiler himself and had it in full an successful operation. He is fully satisfied that the boiling process will secure all the gold and realize the most sanguine expectations of those who approve and adopt this mode of separating and saving the gold. In boiling the sand fifty pounds of quicksilver is put into the boiler; a ton or more of sand is added; the boiler is filled with water; the boiling continues for an hour or more; the quicksilver vaporizes and penetrates the sand from bottom to top, by which means the coating on the gold is completely removed. A constant stream of cold water is kept running on the top of the boiler; this prevents the escape of the quicksilver in its vaporized state, and condenses it when the boiling is completed. The boiled sand is then sluiced out of the boiler with cold water into a vat. It is then washed over the ordinary sluices, copper plates, drop-riffles and blankets; the amalgam collected and retorted. The boilers in present use are three feet by four, and two feet deep, with condensing covers, heated by the ordinary furnaces. The bottom of the boilers are flat, so as to vaporize the quicksilver more effectually. Twenty tons of sand can be boiled in twelve hours with five boilers. The average expense will be $2 per ton, and the net profit will average $13 per ton. When the boilers now in use are fully tested, and the success of the plan established beyond doubt, steam power will no doubt be adopted on a large scale for boiling the sand in place of the present small boilers and furnaces. The same principle will be adopted in due time for boiling the black sands on the beach, so that no limit can be put at present to the growth and profit of this great mining interest. The black sand leads, now nearly two miles inland, were once part of the sea beach, and will probably yield profitable mining for a century to come. Every high tide brings in a fresh supply of gold on the beach, that will give profitable employment to many when the process of boiling comes into full operation.

The County Commissioners of Marion county have employed Mr. James Walton to make a new map of the county. It is 5½ by 7 feet, and will be the most complete that has ever been drawn, having the original boundaries of all the farms taken by the settlers, with the location of all the towns and villages that have existence at the present time, also the proper courses of streams, &c.

Mr. Histler, of Ochoco, came to the Dalles last week, and had in his possession $36 worth of Ochoco gold dust. It appears that the miners from Canyon City who were at work in the creek, abandoned that locality and went to work in the gulches on the banks of the stream, and struck gold in the first hole they sunk. His opinion seems to be that these gulch claims are going to pay well, but they are not very extensive.

Grain of all sorts is maturing well in Marion county. The hay is about all secured, and the yield is immense. First rate timothy hay sells in Salem now at ten dollars per ton, and oat hay and second rate grass hay sell at $7 to $8 per ton. Harvesting of fall wheat will begin generally this week. The grain is large and plump. Oats were never so heavy as this year. The weather is excellent for maturing crops of every sort.

Mr. A. J. Burnett and others have discovered a quartz lead on the summit of Roberts' Hill, in Douglas county. The lodge is well defined and can be traced on the surface the distance of 300 yards. An assay of a piece of rock taken from the surface yields sufficient silver to justify further and a more thorough prospecting. If it increases as they descend, the Badger lead, the name given it, will prove valuable to its owners.

Mr. Longfellow, residing near the head of Soap Creek, in Benton county, killed a large black bear, one day last week, with a shot gun loaded with bird shot. Mr. L. was herding sheep when he saw bruin making off with a lamb, and, like a good shepherd, he ran to the relief of his charge, giving his bearship two charges of bird shot square in the face, from which two shot penetrated the brain through the eyes, killing him almost instantly.

The Marion County Farmers' Club met at Salem last Saturday. A resolution was adopted declaring that the financial condition of the State will be furthered by a State combination that will give aid to the building of woolen factories and foundries, rather than by building warehouses and ships. A resolution to take into consideration the opening of a union store in Salem was indefinitely postponed. The Club adjourned until the first Tuesday in January, 1874.

The Forest Grove Independent of last Saturday says: "The first reaping of fall wheat that we have any knowledge of in this vicinity, was done on Monday, the 21st inst., on the farm of Rev. E. Walker. The variety of wheat is known as the Australian white fall, and has matured much earlier than fields sown at the same time and even before the ordinary white fall wheat. Mr. Curtis has also harvested his first field of fall wheat this week. It is thought by some that it will yield more than forty bushels to the acre."

The Washington correspondent of the Eugene Journal speaking of the family of our late Congressman, says: "I am sorry to learn that Mrs. Wilson and her four children are left in rather poor circumstances. They have about four thousand dollars in notes, a few hundred dollars in money, and a little town property in the Dalles and in Salem, which brings little or no income. Mrs. Wilson will leave here to-day or to-morrow with her children for western New York, her former home, where she will remain a short time, and then return to Oregon, or, if she can get a school, she may teach during the winter, and not return to Oregon before next spring."

The Agricultural and Wool Growers' Association of Douglas county met at the Court House in Roseburg on the 19th inst. A resolution was adopted declaring that the Association would receive bids for all the wool belonging to members, and then a recess was taken. At the recess considerable excitement was manifested amongst the wool-buyers. Besides the firms of Flood, Marks, Morgan and Crane, who are known to be heavy dealers in wool, there were wool men from San Francisco and other places. At 3 o'clock the Association met to receive bids, and whereupon Asher Marks sent up to the Secretary's desk the bid of S. Marks & Co. Verbal bids of 23 cents per pound were made, and one unsealed, at 22 cents per pound. The President then proceeded to open the only sealed bid, that of S. Marks & Co., who bid 23½ cents per pound for all the wool belonging to the Association, said wool to be delivered at the depot the present month. The Association then adopted a resolution declaring the wool sold to Messrs. Marks & Co. The wool thus sold is over 40,000 pounds, all understood to be of the long clip.

The body of Angus McDonald, who was drowned near Seabeck, several weeks ago, was found a few days since on the beach of Hood's canal, nine miles above that place. It was much disfigured, and only recognized by the clothing. It was brought down and buried at Seabeck. We think this is the first instance of the recovery of the body of any one drowned in the waters of Puget Sound.

The mines of Owyhee are turning out remarkably well this season. Business is brisk, and everybody feels as if the permanency of the camp was thoroughly established. Extensive improvements and additions are being made to the machinery connected with many of the mines, and there is no lack of money. Hands are scarce, and at least 150 men can find profitable employment by going to Owhee.

The Olympia Courier says: "The grand jury at Steilacoom adjourned on Thursday night, after finding quite a number of liquor cases. Harry Andrews confessed judgment and was fined $50 and costs. A number of liquor sellers will stand suit. None of the liquor sellers of Tacoma were indicted, the grand jury not recollecting that there was such a place till they had adjourned. Great is Tacoma."

The Courier tells the following on the Tacoma landlord: "The solitary hotel of which Tacoma now boasts is overrun with transient custom, and the proprietor has much difficulty in catering to the wants of the hungry ones; but his chief trouble arises from the lack of bedding, though he finds some relief through the convivial habits of many of his lodgers. After frequent libations in honor of Bacchus, they retire one by one to their various couches, and Morpheus soon claims them for his own. The golden opportunity is then made available, and the bunks containing the sleeping innocents are stripped of their coverlids, which are immediately transferred to another bunk and boozy inmate. With slight variations this programme is carried on from night till morning, and ever and anon, as an individual appears and asks for 'his bunk,' can be heard the voice of the landlord crying to the steward, 'John, go and snatch bunk 6,' as he thinks the different bunkers are safely asleep."

As a band of Pen d'Oreille Indians were on a grand hunt between Dearborn and Sun Rivers, Montana, on July 11th, they encountered a band of the Montana Crows who were on a grand horse steal. The Helena Herald thus describes the fight that ensued: "It appears that the Pen d'Oreilles were in camp on the Dearborn, with their tepees in a circle. [illegible] after daylight in the morning they were attacked by the Crows, who were evidently bent on a grand horse steal. At first the fighting was hand to hand, and, making due allowance for exaggeration, for a time it must have been a desperate affair. Front[illegible], who have witnessed and participated in Indian warfare and battles, can draw a vivid picture to the minds of the exciting scene—bucks fiercely whooping, squaws and children yelling, (and sick yelling!) the rapid firing of the carbine and pistol, the barking of a multitude of dogs, and the running hither and thither of the Indian ponies—all conspire to make an unutterable chaos of sounds and figures that once seen can never be forgotten. The fighting [illegible] a time was reduced to skirmishing, which kept up until noon. At this time, they [illegible] discretion the better part of valor, the Pen d'Oreilles, putting their wounded bucks and squaws upon ponies, retreated to the [illegible]. The ride of the Pen d'Oreilles down the Blackfoot was quite in contrast with the happy hunting [illegible] that came up only a few days before, and it could hardly be [illegible] the same party. The loss of the Pen d'Oreilles foots up as follows: Sixty killed, a [illegible] wounded, and one hundred horses killed and stolen. The Crows lost four killed."

MONDAY MORNING JULY 28, 1873

PATRONS OF HUSBANDRY

The last number of the Farmer contains the preamble, constitution and by-laws of this new Order, which has made such astonishing progress in gaining members and power throughout the United States during the last year. The fundamental propositions upon which the organization starts out is that "human happiness is the acme of earthly ambition," that "the prosperity of a nation is in proportion to the value of its productions," and that all wealth is derived from the soil. Certain subordinate or corollary propositions are stated in the preamble, explaining the beneficent objects of the Order, and then follow the constitution and by-laws.

All male persons of the age of eighteen, and all females of the age of sixteen years, who are interested in agricultural pursuits, are eligible to membership. There are four degrees in the Subordinate Granges, called respectively, and in their order: for males, Laborer, Cultivator, Harvester and Husbandman; for females, Maid, Shepherdess, Gleaner and Matron. The fees and dues are very low, and differ according to the sex of the applicant or member, those for males being much higher. Past Masters of Subordinate Granges are, ex officio, entitled to the fifth degree, which is called Pomona, and whose members constitute the State Grange; and Past Masters of State Granges compose the National Grange, taking the sixth degree, which is denominated Flora. Those who have served in the National Grange or Council one year are entitled to the seventh degree, called Ceres, which gives them a seat and a vote in the Senate, which is the highest body in the Order. The officers of a Grange—National, State or Subordinate—are: Master, Overseer, Lecturer, Steward, Chaplain, Treasurer, Secretary, Gatekeeper, Ceres, Pomona, Flora, and Lady Assistant Steward, who are chosen by ballot, annually in the Subordinate, biennially in the State, and once in five years in the National Granges. The State and National Granges meet annually, and the Subordinates at least once a month. Like other secret societies, this Order has its ritual, which is prescribed by the National Grange. The Order has its system of reliefs, and by what we can see from outside, we judge most of the other commendable features of other popular secret organizations, as incidents to its main object, which is declared in the preamble, as follows:

> The ultimate object of this organization is for mutual instruction and protection, to lighten labor by diffusing a knowledge of its aims and purposes, expand the mind by [illegible]ing the beautiful laws the Great Creator has established in the Universe, and to enlarge our views of Creative wisdom and power.

Independently of any object peculiar to the agricultural classes this order is admirably adapted to become popular throughout the country as a social and benevolent organization. The rapid growth of secret societies in the United States especially of those that are less exclusive in their character than the Freemasons is conclusive evidence of the favor with which the general plan of these societies, and the founders of this new order has, if we are not mistaken, assimilated their most popular elements into this famous guild.

THE OUNCE OF PREVENTION.

We took occasion on Saturday to call attention to the sanitary condition of our city. The points we dwelt on were odorous and pungent. They should penetrate our ignorance and indifference, and lead to active measures to abate every source of pest or plague, and to live according to the laws of health. The existence of pest-breeding deposits in a city like ours, is a reflection upon the intelligence and culture of the citizens. One of the laws of health is forever commanding, "Keep clean!" Cleanliness of person, dwellings, surroundings and ways, are among the prime conditions of health. A vitiated atmosphere is among the surest and deadliest vehicles of disease. The way to keep the air pure is to keep clean. The necessary process of waste and repair in the human system, the exhalation of plants, the evaporation of liquids, all combine to infect the air. And whatever can reduce the infection is a public benefit. There cheap deodorizers and disinfectants, such as chloride of lime, copperas and carbolic acid, which should be used in and about every dwelling and all places where noxious odors abound. These personal efforts should be ably supplemented by the conservators of the public good. A fearless and intelligent Health Officer is just now as much needed, as Mayor, or police. Keep cool and clean.

If it is possible to conceive of another circumstance that can make an editor as perfectly and serenely happy as the male member of "the Johnson family," was when the railway conductor politely declined to allow him to bring the female member from Salem to Portland on his free pass, as his wife, that circumstance is, for the compositor who sets up his book notices to get the title of the book all wrong, substitute "refuted" for "reported," "familiar" for "family," "cultivated" for "cultured," and "Figuera" for "Figuier," and even take such a lively interest in him as to correct his orthography so as to make him write devination instead of divination in two or three different places.

Notice is published that the Council proposes to construct a considerable number of sewers, embracing the entire system of sewerage for certain specified districts of the city. It is not supposed, however, that this work will all be commenced immediately, but merely that the whole system may be laid before the public for examination that objection, if there be any, may be made before the work is initiated.

The need of some channel being provided whereby the sewage and surface water can be conducted away is pressing, but further than this immediate necessity it is hardly likely that work will be attempted the present season.

The New York Graphic of recent date contains portraits of Senator Hipple and his deserted wife, Sadie Hoon. The former is an accurate likeness, the face of the latter is expressive of great strength of character and a self-reliant womanhood which prepossess the beholder in her behalf at once.

WHO IS THE CRIMINAL?

It is thought by many that Lizzie Lloyd King, alias Kate Stoddard, whose voluntary confession of the murder of Charles Goodrich has solved a mystery, is insane. There is certainly evidence enough of circumstances over which she might have lost her reason, if not enough to justify her taking the man's life without being insane. Among her effects when she was taken to prison were found thirteen letters, part of them written by herself to Goodrich, and part by Goodrich to her, which fully show the relations between them. Some of these letters are undated, but others are dated, and the circumstances mentioned are such as to leave no difficulty in determining the order in which each letter stands in the correspondence. They show that the writers were lovers for a long time, addressing each other in the most endearing language, and that on the 20th of May, 1872, a ceremony of marriage was performed, which she, at least, was led to suppose was a legal marriage. This is clear from the letters of both parties, and from an entry in the woman's diary under that date. After this she addresses him as "my dearest husband," and her letters are full of affection. Three of his letters to her are dated after the marriage. The second of these breaks to her his intention to disown her as his wife, and the third tells her they must not live together as husband and wife thereafter, and that she must not call herself his wife any more. If she will go to New York, he tells her, he will provide a room for her, and "help her all within his power;" but in no event is she to make known the relationship subsisting between them. This cruelty and humiliation she submits to in order to keep, if possible, the affections of the scoundrel whose villainy has placed her at his mercy, only showering on him more of the language of womanly devotion. Arrived in New York his purpose of complete abandonment of her is revealed, and she, after much pleading and remonstrating, find herself cast off as an unclean thing, by the person for whom she has sacrificed everything—given up home and friends to be his wife, and then given up the name and honorable position of wife and lived alone, in obscurity, and under an assumed name, simply to have his love and be near him—and the fatal quarrel ensues.

The law says she is guilty of murder and must suffer the penalty for that highest of crimes,' unless it shall appear that her wrongs had preyed upon her till her reason was dethroned before the fatal meeting between her and her betrayer. Perhaps it is necessary for the safety of society that the law should be so; but the human heart, warm with healthy, human sentiments, can feel only pity and sympathy for her. The real criminal was the man with whose blood her hands are stained. Be the civil laws what they may, there is a law in the human breast that silently thanks God whenever the victim of any Charles Goodrich proves to be a Kate Stoddard.

A CHANCE FOR ALL.

Under this head, we find in the San Francisco News Letter, an article upon an enterprise in which Oregon is deeply interested. We quote:

> In 1864, Congress granted to the "Oregon Central Military Road Company" eight hundred and fifty thousand acres of land, in order to assist them in the construction of a military road from Eugene City to the eastern line of Oregon, and the borders of Idaho, a distance of some four hundred and seventy miles. This grant was ratified by an act of the Legislative Assembly of Oregon the same year, and also by another act passed in 1866. This land grant is now offered to the public by the "Pacific Land Company," at prices that cannot fail to make the speculation a good one both for settlers and investers. The road traverses the southern section of the State, and runs alongside of its lakes and rivers, and the "Pacific Land Company, by virtue of their purchase from the Oregon Road Company," now hold at the disposal of the public, for the most moderate prices, three sections for each mile along the entire line of road. The Company having purchased the military road and entire land grant, have incorporated, with a stock of five thousand shares, at par value of two hundred and forty dollars. But a purchaser of one share of the first one thousand shares offered may obtain it at one half that amount in United States currency, or at a rate of about seventy-five cents per acre. A share will represent over one hundred and sixty acres of land. A share will be received by the company at par value—namely, at two hundred and forty dollars—in payment for land. Such shares will then be canceled, not re-issued, and a deed given the purchaser. The land will be appraised at moderate rates, in sections of six hundred and forty acres. This land is classified as first, second and third quality; soil of great fertility; or of a quality suitable for grain, or as grazing and timber land. Only a small portion of mountainous land is unfit for one of the purposes named. The country is well watered, and the climate reported and generally understood to be very pleasant, and the whole section a remarkably healthy one. That this Company is a reliable one, and the whole affair a bona fide transaction, a reference to the names on the prospectus at once proves. The opinion, too, of Clarence King, the United States Zoologist of this Coast, which opinion, as the world knows, is ever given without fear or favor, is, that the greater part of the grant (which grant he has carefully inspected) is land of the finest quality. As this is probably about the last great land grant that will be given by Congress, settlers, capitalists, and business men, who some day mean to settle down on a comfortable homestead, should not miss so grand an opportunity of becoming either purchasers or shareholders of this Company's land. Here is a belt of land stretching as far as from Portland, Maine, to New York, three miles wide, from which, for a comparative trifle, any one may obtain land, hold it for an advance, make it a home, or keep his stock, as a certain and profitable investment. A farm can be bought for the small sum of $120, a sum which many a poor man has lost in a day on stocks, or spent in a week on a drunk. We would especially call the attention of English capitalists and farmers to the wonderful opportunities here offered both for legitimate speculation and farming operations. Many an English farmer pays a rent for a few acres of land overrun with game, which sum, if invested here, would make him an independent man, and give him a happy home in a country where rich lords don't eat up poor tenants with hares and rabbits, and where the virgin soil simply needs turning over to produce crops far superior to those of his native land.

Taking into consideration all the circumstances of climate, soil, timber, water, and geographical situation, we feel safe in saying there is no finer section of country open to settlement in the interior of the Pacific coast than that to which immigrants and others seeking homes are invited by the bringing of these lands into market.

Nothing stranger than this that Wm. M. Gwin, Duke of Sonora and murderer of Broderick, to-day is a candidate for the United States Senate, to succeed Eugene Casserly. Can any one imagine a stronger case of the impudence of events?

Amasa Walker, the famous political economist of Massachusetts, appears as an earnest advocate of Governmental purchase of all the railroads in the country.

THE PEOPLE TO THE FRONT.

The leading editorial article in the last number of the Farmer is upon the subject of Candidates for Congress. The editor thinks it is time for the people to rescue the question of who shall be nominated from the hands of tricky politicians, and make a nomination themselves of some man who is devoted to the welfare of the State and the fostering and building up of its industries. "It is not necessary," says the Farmer, "to organize an independent movement to secure success, for it is easy for the people to secure good nominations by letting their influence be felt. They are too apt to neglect the preliminaries, and permit the schemers to obtain control of the machinery of politics." There is good practical sense in these remarks. An independent movement would as certainly fail as it were undertaken. Nor is there any necessity for such a movement. Let the people—the farmers, the merchants, the mechanics—the people generally—make up their minds to see to it that the parties with which they have hitherto been identified make good nominations, let them not neglect their primaries; let them act unitedly and courageously; and let them give it to be distinctly understood a nomination secured by fraud, or the nomination of a man notoriously unfit to represent the State in Congress, will be certain defeat to the party that makes it, and the managers of both parties will perceive the necessity of putting forward honest and reliable men, instead of worn out political hacks.

The Farmer names a number of gentlemen who, it thinks, would well represent the state, all of whom, so far as we know, are good men. To some of them, however, we should object on political grounds. The list it names are Hon. A. J. Dufur, C. E. Moor of Benton county, John H. Smith of Linn, Thomas Smith of Douglas, Hon. T. W. Davenport and Hon. John Minto. Of the same class as these men, and a man of fine abilities, is Colonel George B. Currey, of Yamhill, whom the Farmer overlooks, but who is mentioned by a good many persons in this part of the country.

The Farmer adds:

> One of the gentlemen we have named has mingled much in public affairs, and shown great aptitude and capacity. We refer to T. W. Davenport, of Marion, a man who is abundantly able to rise above the partizan and be a man. While he is extremely ultra in what he believes to be right, he is in most respects as conservative as an honest man can be.
> But we are not nominating men for Congress—we are merely suggesting, what the people, we know, will endorse, that state politicians be laid aside for once, and the claims of Oregon considered instead of the "claims" of politicians. And, in this connection, let us say that the death of Hon. J. G. Wilson is a great loss to Oregon. He went to Washington to prepare himself beforehand for usefulness, and we received from his own lips assurances that he intended to do all in his power to purge Congress of corruption, and to check the growing power of almost omnipotent monopoly.

One likes to read such hearty expressions of good-will to the freedmen as are contained in ex-Gov. Herbert's letter endorsing General Beauregard's action on the unification resolutions. Th Governor says. "The freedmen and ourselves have a common country, common interests. Our prosperity or poverty is a partnership. As one succeeds or fails, so does the other. The freedman of the South is not migratory—where he is he wishes to stay. It is clear, therefore, that the colored people and ourselves are destined to be joint occupants of the country—provided we can get along together. Is there any insurmountable obstacle in the way to harmony and a mutual, equitable understanding? There may be, from the difference of races. Be this as it may, our duty is plain. Let us grant all the rights and privileges enjoyed by white people, equally, and beyond cavil, to the freedmpn. It's his business, like others, to establish his social status—as he makes his social bed he must sleep on it. We must not 'taboo' him or place any obstruction in his way. Give him a free field and a fair chance."

The New York juryman is not such a martyr as one would think in reading of the long and tedious trials for murder in that beatific community of rampant ruffianism. We read in the Tribune's report of the meeting of the Board of Aldermen that the bill of Stetson & Son, amounting to $190, for meals furnished the jury on the Nixon trial, was "objected to by Supervisor Falconer as containing charges for cigars and liquor, but was finally allowed." At the same meeting the bills of Charles T. Curtis, $10,000, and J. R. Porter, $7,500, for legal services in the Tweed trial; the bill of J. R. Fellows, $3,000, for services in the Stokes case, and the bill of the proprietors of French's hotel for $747 50, for meals furnished to the Stokes jury, were allowed.

SAVING FRUIT.

As the season has arrived during which large quantities of fruit are dried for market, a few hints, as to packing and curing so as to make it most saleable, from merchants who have the handling of it, may not be without interest to the producers. We clip the following from the Dried Fruit Circular of E. D. Robinson, New York, all of which is applicable to this market, except the style of package, neat boxes being the best here.

> Care should be taken that all tares are correctly marked, and the fruit to run uniform throughout each and every package. ship none that is not well dried, pack in new or very clean second-hand bags or barrels; do not put more than one kind in the same package, thereby securing for your shipments a reputation which will generally insure quick sales at full market prices, mark or brand the kind or quality, together with weight and tare, distinctly, send invoice descriptive of weights, etc., also railroad receipts or bills of lading with every shipment.
> All dried fruits sell principally by color, which should be bright, and to obtain the same in apples and peaches, they should be prepared for drying before fully ripe. Sliced apples, if not bright, do not pay for the trouble of slicing, and the finest qualities should be packed in new barrels, top and bottom lined with paper. Bright quartered apples, well cored, uniform in cut, are always more or less in demand, and more attention should be given to them. Peeled peaches should be sliced or cut in eighths, and invariably of a bright color. Dark qualities rule low and are slow of sale. Unpeeled peaches should be cut in halves or quarters. The largest peaches should be selected for halves, size being a consideration in them, while the smaller fruit is fully as desirable to be cut for quarters. They should be kept entirely separate, as when mixed they will not generally sell at over the price of quarters.
> Blackberries should be particularly well dried, as they are liable to sweat and spoil, and pack only in new barrels. Cherries should be packed also in new barrels of about equal parts red and black mixed; any syrup or sugar put on them detracts from their value, as they sell at much better prices and are more desirable when free from any such mixture. Unpitted cherries will hardly pay for drying, the price ruling usually low. Black damson plums and black raspberries are more or less in demand at all times at good prices, which will fully pay when care has been taken with them. They are better packed in barrels.

THE TAXATION QUESTION

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN.

In the Bulletin of the 25th inst. appears a lengthy article signed "J. G.," wherein the writer advances some singular opinions upon the subject of taxation. "J. G." appears to think that property should be assessed according to its present productiveness, but forgets that the man who locked up $50,000 coin during a crisis, because too timid to loan or invest, would have an equal right to demand exemption from taxation as he who invested in an enterprise that for the time being did not pay, the rule applying with equal force to the idle coin and the unprofitable railroad.

What shall be assessed and what deducted is a question of law and not of expediency, and in the case of A. P. Ankeny vs. Multnomah county, it was decided that indebtedness owing to non-residents could not be deducted from the assessable value of the property, which the law says shall be the cash value. What constitutes the cash value of a piece of property is a nice question, and does not depend entirely upon what it can be sold for at a moment's notice: what would it cost to purchase or replace the property is also to be considered.

"J. G." appears to consider that it is the individual instead of the property that is taxed, and is desirous that indebtedness to foreigners should be deducted from the assessable value of real property, but sees no objection to taxing personal property at its full value, because forsooth merchandise changes hands and yields a profit, forgetting that taxation must be "uniform and equal."

Why a corporation should have the privilege of deducting the amount of its debts to foreigners from the value of its property within the State, when a natural person cannot do so, is not made clear, and no Assessor has a right to consider the amount of any indebtedness except as laid down in the law.

I cannot see how the "OREGONIAN'S doctrine" can affect the case, as it is merely a question of law, and has been decided in our Courts as heretofore stated, but it does appear from the communication of "J. G." as though some corporation was preparing to avoid its share of the public burden. B.

Portland, July 26, 1873.

"Remember," says Mr. Carlyle, "that the great business of life is the finding of the 'Able Man.'" In the social philosophy of the Scotch author, the "Able Man" figures as the foreordained ruler. We may say that in American politics the great business is to find the available man. And just here the Indianapolis Journal lets us into the secret of the Indiana Democracy. We are told that General Jeff. C. Davis is the able man of that branch of the great unwashed for the next Presidency. It says that a "quiet movement is going on in Democratic circles with a view to bringing out General Jeff. C. Davis for the Presidency—not Jeff. Davis, late President of the Southern Confederacy, as might be supposed, but Jeff. C. Davis of the regular army, and of recent Modoc fame. The movement has already gained considerable head, and is particularly pleasing to those Democrats who are in favor of a complete new departure, and throwing themselves on the mercy of the people."

MEETING OF THE STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE.

The Republican State Central Committee will meet at EUGENE CITY, on THURSDAY, THE 7TH DAY OF AUGUST, 1873, at 7:30 o'clock, P. M., to arrange for the approaching election of a member of Congress to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Hon. J. G. Wilson, and for such other business as may be deemed proper. A full attendance of the members of the Committee is desired.

ALL READY.—After many months of labor, expended at intervals, the new dredger is at last completed and ready for service. This dredger cost the Government a considerable sum of money, but the public means could not have been expended to better purpose. As it stands completed, this dredger is among the best and largest yet constructed on the coast. It is built throughout in the most powerful, massive manner, and combines in its operations all the latest improvements known to that branch of civil engineering. No comparison can be instituted between the old dredger and the new one, in respect to capacity or effectiveness. More powerful machinery will be employed in the operation of the "dipper," which is nearly twice as large as the one used on the old dredger. Superior advantages are possessed by the machinery, thus enabling the "dipper" to be lowered and elevated with greater rapidity. With the aid of a longer crane and guide posts, the new craft can work successfully in forty-five feet of water. It is estimated that the new dredger can lift from the bed of the river and bring to the surface of the water, twice as much earth and sand deposit than the old, and far more than the old dredger could do in the same length of time. To add to the general effectiveness of the appliances, two large new scows, each with improved trap-door bottoms, have been built, expressly to work in connection with the dredger. These new scows are a great improvement over those formerly used. Not more than half the time will be required to ... them. When the dredger is working in a portion of the channel abounding in rocks, stumps and snags, the dipper can be easily ... and a grappler, made of massive bars of iron and braced in the strongest possible manner, used to advantage. This grappler is made so as to open and close, like the two hands, joined at the wrist, which in ... Snags and boulders can thus be ... up and transferred to the scows and removed from the channel. Everything attached to the new dredger is ready for service, and nothing but the present stage of water delays the commencing of operations. In a few days the craft will move down the river to the head of Swan Island. Between the 1st and 10th of August work for the improvement of the ... will be inaugurated.

ARRIVED AT PORT.—In tow of the Mary Bell the bark Clara Louisa arrived at this port yesterday ... from Astoria. The bark came direct from Honolulu, bringing a cargo of sugar consigned to J. McCraken & Co. The Clara Louisa sailed from Honolulu on the 27th of June, and, experiencing moderately propitious weather, the bark arrived off the Columbia Bar on the 25th of July. This vessel was built in England, but at present sails under the Liberian flag, and is the first craft which has yet touched at this port displaying the ... of that African State. For some years the bark has been engaged in a general trade, confined to no line in particular. Several years ago the Clara Louisa left San Francisco with a cargo bound for some of the ports on the Chilian coast. She arrived in safety, discharged her cargo, and came in ballast to Honolulu, at which place she was chartered for Portland. Capt. W. H. Summers has command of the vessel at present, and is one of the principal owners. To-morrow she will begin to discharge cargo.

IN LUCK.—Most of the business men in Portland doubtless remember Joseph Sonnenberg, who was the proprietor of a boot and shoe shop in this city some years ago. It appears that this gentleman is very lucky, if the papers are to be credited. We observe the following paragraph which appeared on the 14th of this month in the Journal and Courier, published in New Haven, Connecticut: "Yesterday Mr. ... Sonnenberg, formerly a boot and shoe ... on Church street, stepped into E. A. Hill's and picked up a New York Herald, to ... the list of drawings of the Royal Havana lottery, he having a half ticket in the same. Running his eye down the list he saw that No. 1353 had drawn the $100,000 prize, and as his half ticket was 1353 he naturally betrayed a little emotion, a half ticket entitling to half of a hundred thousand in gold. If the official list of drawings confirms the printed report Mr. S. has made $50,000 at a stroke."

PASSENGERS ON THE WAY.—Last Saturday the steamer Ajax sailed from San Francisco for Portland, with the following passengers: E. M. Taylor and wife, Mrs. E. Sparks and child, Mrs. W. Robertson, Lieut. T. Garvey, U. S. A.; A. Kidd, George Fair, S. Dyborn, C. E. Chaney, M. O. Hubbard, wife and four children; Mrs. L. Whittier, Mrs. J. Kenny and daughter, Mrs. W. W. Bishop and child, L. Bloomfield, James Fisher, L. Sohns, Mrs. Emory, A. Harman and wife, Charles Woerz, Mrs. F. Elstein, Miss S. O. Dure, C. M. Smith, F. E. Peck, J. O. Graham, W. Crawford, G. Clark, R. S. Walker, R. Newcomb, wife and child; L. H. Lewis, Mrs. D. Harding, W. S. Broaddus and wife, M. McCauley, H. Weinhart, C. B. Rhoads and wife, M. Plummer.

UP THE COLUMBIA.—Notwithstanding the steamer Daisy Ainsworth was completed nearly two months ago, and is at present in complete running condition, the trial trip has not yet been made. Two reasons exist for this. First, Capt. Ainsworth, on whom has been conferred the honor of standing at the wheel when the trial trip is to be made, has been so wholly engrossed in matters connected with the location of the terminus, that he has not had time or disposition; and second, no urgent necessity exists for the immediate services of the splendid new steamer. The steamer Idaho, which plies daily between the Cascades and Dalles, is in tolerable fair running trim, and can render service for a long time yet. However, it is more than probable that the Daisy Ainsworth will make her maiden trip soon. After that, she will run regularly, and the Idaho will be ordered to the ways, when she will be generally overhauled.

FORMAL OPENING.—The rooms of the Progress Club were thrown open to the members and invited guests on Saturday evening. With the beautiful chandeliers in every room lit up, the surroundings were rendered quite dazzling to the visitor. Everything was in complete order, and those who were fortunate enough to be present at the opening, spoke in the highest terms of the elaborate manner in which Club had arranged the several apartments. It was only after everybody had been made perfectly happy, that they were allowed to depart. In our issue of the 24th inst. we gave a lengthy description of the rooms, and judging from what we observed on Saturday evening, the success of the club is assured. In two weeks the rooms will be opened to the ladies, who will no doubt be pleased with what they will see. The Club has a membership of sixty.

STRUCK FOR WAGES.—Yesterday the deck hands on board the steamer Emma Hayward struck for higher wages and refused to work unless their demands were acceded to. The Captain of the boat did not feel warranted in making any overtures to the men without instructions from the company, and so the hands all left with one accord. A large quantity of wheat was placed on board during Saturday evening, but the hands refused to touch a number of tons of assorted cargo which was lying on the wharf, ready to be shipped below. During a good portion of the day yesterday, the mate was looking for men to take the places of those striking. The wages paid by the company at present is $40 per month, and the deck hands ask for $50. It is scarcely probable that the company will increase the wages to the sum claimed.

YELLOW OCHRE.—While a party of sportsmen were out hunting last week in Lane county on the McKenzie river, they accidentally discovered a mine of what was supposed to be pure yellow ochre of fine texture and wholly free from grit. A quantity of the article was brought by the party to Eugene City to be tested. On comparison with the prepared article in the drug store, it appeared to be superior, even just as it was taken from the natural bed. A few days ago samples of the article were brought to this city to be further tested. An examination was made by an assayist. Instead of being yellow ochre, it was pronounced to be a very superior quality of crockery clay, which is of equal value. The place where the mine is situated is said to be about thirty miles southeast of Eugene, and of comparatively easy access.

CAUGHT FIRE.—A strong wind was blowing during the time the bark Clara Louisa was being towed to this city by the Mary Bell. Sparks were carried from the stack over through the rigging of the vessel, and a good degree of caution was necessary to be observed to prevent the sails from catching fire. Some coals of fire were carried up from the furnace and lodged in the cracks of the main yard, near the end of the spar, and before observed it was blazing fiercely. After some trouble and delay the fire was extinguished, and the bark proceeded on to her destination without further accident.

UNDERGOING REPAIRS.—Since the steamer Rescue was hauled off and taken to the bone-yard that steamer has been undergoing repairs. Repairs are being made to the boiler, and the engines were sometime ago sent to the Dalles. They were taken to the machine shops and are being thoroughly overhauled. In a few days the engine will be sent down and put in the steamer again. Both the inside and exterior of the cabin and upper works of the Rescue are being treated to a coat of paint. By the last of the present week the steamer will be ready for service.

WILL BE OVERHAULED.—The steamer Fannie Troup is still running on the lower river. It is the intention of the company to whom she belongs to have the steamer overhauled in a few weeks. At present the steamer Rescue is lying at the bone-yard, and unfit for service. Whenever the Rescue is ready to report for service, which will be in the course of a week, the Fannie Troup will be taken to the bone-yard, and the former steamer ordered to temporarily assume the line.

SHIP CONFIDENCE.—To-day, the ship Confidence, having nearly completed her cargo of wheat, for England, will be towed down the river to Astoria. She carries away from here about 800 tons of grain. The Confidence is drawing 17 feet of water, which is as much as the ship can carry away from this port with safety. Several hundred tons more of grain will be placed on board when the vessel arrives at Astoria, after which she will be ready for sea.

ELECTED.—At a regular meeting of Multnomah Lodge No. 12, I. O. G. T., held Saturday evening, July 26, 1873, the following officers were elected for the ensuing term: J. L. McCown, W. C. T.; Miss Nellie Terry, W. V. T.; Emil Bories (re-elected), W. R. S.; Miss Lizzie Terry, W. T.; James McKay, W. F. S.; A. P. Winsett, W. M.; E. F. Heroy, W. C.; Miss Gemma Frankie, W. I. G.; J. M. Jones, W. O. G.

BOLTS—LUMBER.—With the exception of the ship Middlesex, the bark Free Trade and brig Orient are the only vessels loading down the river. The bark will proceed from Cathlamet, where she has been lying for some time, to Knappton to complete her cargo of bolts for staves, and the brig has nearly finished loading with lumber at Cementville. Both these vessels are loading for San Francisco.

PASSED OUT.—Two vessels left Astoria bound out on Friday. One was the English bark Hermine, bound for Liverpool with a full cargo of wheat, and the other was the bark Rival, carrying away a large quantity of assorted freight, destined for San Francisco.

BEACHED.—A few days ago the tug Ben Holladay was beached at Astoria to have some repairs made to the propeller. After the necessary work, the boat was launched and is ready for service. She is lying at this port now.

WHEAT.—This morning the Emma Hayward will carry away down the river 1,800 sacks of wheat. The grain will be placed on board the ship Middlesex, which is lying at Astoria.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

River falling.

Steamer due Wednesday.

It is good—you bet—Fabre's coffee.

Have you been to Quinn's? If not go.

The steamer Onatta carried a large party of excursionists to Vancouver yesterday.

The Clara Louisa brought to port two passengers from Honolulu—Mortimer J. Carpenter and J. Tott.

Felix Allen, at Richardson's brick yard, moulded 70,500 brick on Saturday inside of five hours. Quick work, that.

Messrs. Geo. H. Himes & Co. have purchased the material and assumed publication of the Commercial Reporter of this city.

The evening cotemporary states that Mr. J. D. McDonald was arrested and fined in the Police Court for drunkenness. This is an error. Mr. McDonald was fined for obstructing the sidewalk.

The Liberian flag displayed yesterday from the mast of the Clara Louisa consisted of eleven stripes, alternating red and white and a blue field, in the center of which was a single white star. It is a close imitation of our own National colors.

Sam Dennis, an actor, formerly of Portland, now stopping at La Grande, has lately made a bird cage, the tools used being a jack-knife, hatchet and hammer and the material being old iron and a tea chest. It is really a work of art and ingenuity.

Y. M. C. ASSOCIATION.

FIFTH ANNIVERSARY OF THE YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION—ANNUAL ADDRESS—REPORTS OF OFFICERS.

The fifth anniversary of the Young Men's Christian Association of Portland was held last evening at the Taylor street M. E. Church. The large auditorium of the church was crowded to an uncomfortable extent, and many could not find seats.

The exercises of the evening opened with singing by the choir.

This was followed by the reading of the Scriptures by Rev. George W. Izer. Prayer followed by Rev. I. D. Driver, in place of Rev. J. D. Eaton, who was too indisposed to attend. Following this came the PRESIDENT'S REPORT.

Mr. President and Gentlemen of the Young Men's Christian Association: The report of the last year's work must be necessarily brief, for never in the history of our Association has so little been accomplished for the Master. One thing only we have done. The debt which has hung like a cloud over us for a long time has been lifted, and we once more breathe freely, and trust that, with new officers, and new men coming constantly among us from the East, the present year will be one long to be remembered by us all. We have taken fresh courage, and with your prayers and our earnest endeavors, we are sure to do a great and good work.

The Treasurer's report tells all that is to be told. On his shoulders the greater part of the work fell, and to him in a great measure we owe our present prosperous condition financially.

During the year our membership has not increased much. Many old and useless names have been dropped from the rolls. New and good ones, in about the same number, have been added, and we are really much stronger to-day than ever before.

Our Lecture Committee worked hard and faithfully to have their usual course ready during the winter months, but found it impossible, for many reasons, to do so. We are sure, however, another season will not pass unimproved.

Our committees have had such an amount of work laid out that nothing has really been accomplished. And here lies our greatest strength. All our work has to be done through the committees of the Association, and nothing new should be attempted until that on hand is thoroughly disposed of.

Our rooms still continue to be of incalculable benefit to us, and and reach many persons there we could not at any other time or place. The tables are well supplied with newspapers and periodicals, and I take this opportunity of inviting all who can to once in a while come in and see us.

The library of the Association has not been improved for many years past, owing, no doubt, to the fact of there being such an excellent and well-supplied library in the same building with us. We hope, however, to have a free library some time in the future.

The concert given for our benefit was a success in every particular, and the thanks of the Association are due to our friends who so nobly came to our aid at that time.

I cannot close without thanking our friends, members of all churches in the city, and pastors, for their generous sympathy and aid, and trust in the future we may prove ourselves worthy the name we bear.

J. DEWITTING.

TREASURER'S REPORT OF THE Y. M. C. A., FOR THE YEARS 1871 AND 1872.

PORTLAND, Oregon, June 1, 1873.

Owing to the change of officers and the manner in which the accounts have been kept previous to the time I assumed the duties as Treasurer of the Association, I find it impossible to render an accurate detailed statement of moneys received and disbursed during the past year. Hence my report must necessarily combine the two preceding years: that is, the doings of the Association from April 1st, 1871, to June 1st, 1873. On the 1st of April, 1871, when Mr. Joyslin assumed charge of the Association, the retiring Treasurer, Mr. E. J. Northrup, reported $219 70 on hand. W. JACKSON, Treasurer.

At the conclusion of the reports, singing followed by the choir. Rev. W. R. Stewart, of Salem, was then introduced and delivered the annual address, which was a very excellent effort and characterized the speaker as a gentleman of no ordinary talent. A collection was then taken up, after which followed the Doxology, and the Benediction pronounced by Rev. T. L. Eliot.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Midsummer Malaria.

At this season the heat of the sun liberates from the soil, the water and the filth of cities immense quantities of unwholesome gases which the strongest can scarcely inhale with impunity, and which develop the most distressing diseases in the weak and feeble. It is, therefore, of paramount importance to invigorate the body in hot weather, vitalize and strengthen the stomach and the nervous system with at least two doses per day of Hostetter's stomach Bitters, and you will be sure to escape the fits of indigestion, attacks of billious colic, sick headaches, diarrhœas and dysenteries which are so common at this season. Be prudent. A little care and forecast exercised now may prevent your being prostrated by remittent and intermittent fever, or by chronic bowel or liver complaint throughout the fall. When vigor is oozing out of every pore under the rays of an almost vertical sun, this genial vegetable tonic supplies to the nervous system an aliment which enables it to withstand the drain.

Why linger in blissful ignorance? Why do you wander about seeking a place where they keep the largest and finest stock of Summer Clothing? Why pay high prices for goods when the fact has been long established that the great firm of J. KOHN & Co., 91 Front Street, sell Clothing and Gents' Furnishing Goods so cheap? They keep the best, they sell the cheapest, and what more can be asked?

SOME people may become excited over the "terminus" of the Northern Pacific Railroad on Puget sound but it does not disturb Beck & Waldman, corner Front and Washington streets in the least, as they intend to pursue the usual course to their customers, and that is to sell goods at prices which will enable those with limited means to provide themselves with good clothing at a very small outlay of money. Parents should bring their children to this house for neat fitting suits.

HELMBOLD'S BUCHU—the only extract of that wonderful curative shrub that contains its full virtues, is still considered the true specific for Kidney Diseases, Gravel, Diabetes, Calculus, Dropsy, and those obscure diseases that undermine life and rob it of enjoyment. Dr. Helmbold, who spent a fortune in making his discovery known, has lived to see it endorsed by the physicians and people of two continents. Remember that it is Helmbold's Extract that cures when all others fail.

All who suffer from coughs, colds, irritation of the bronchial tubes or tendency to consumption, will find in DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY a remedy as agreeable to the palate as the fruit in removing disease. The Balsam is a pleasant remedy; it is a speedy remedy; it is a remedy that cures.

A NEW BEAUTIFYING AGENT.—All Dentrifices had their drawbacks, until the salubrious Bark of the Soap Tree was brought from the Chilian valleys, to perfect the fragrant SOZODONT, the most delightful article for the teeth, that a brush was ever dipped into. 30

BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES for Pulmonary and Asthmatic Disorders have proved their efficacy by a test of many years and have received testimonials from eminent men who have used them.

The relaxing power of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment is truly wonderful. Cases are already numerous where bent and stiffened limbs have been limbered and straightened by it. When used for this purpose, the part should be washed and rubbed thoroughly. Apply the liniment cold and rub it in with the hand.

A crowd of "Horse Men," and others, daily throng the stores in country and town for Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders. They understand that horses cannot be kept in good condition without them, and with them can be on a much less quantity of grain.

OUT DOOR SPORTS.

The Pacific Club appeared in a neat but plain suit last Saturday.

The Rosebuds beat the Hoodlums at Roseburg last week, 55 to 31.

The Pacific Club will give the Pioneers another chance to win—or lose.

We would advise base ball clubs to play on the east side the first opportunity, and there hereafter.

July 15th, at Springfield, Mass., in a game of base ball between Harvard and Brown freshmen, the Harvards won by 21 to 14. On the 16th, at same place, Boston, 21; Athletic, 14.

The cricket club will meet this evening on the base ball grounds back of the Academy for practice. As soon as the grounds in East Portland are in condition they will play on that side.

The third and deciding game of base ball between the Pioneer and Pacific Clubs came off as per announcement, on Saturday afternoon. At two o'clock Mr. Warren, the Umpire called game, the Pacifics going to the bat and scoring three runs—the Pioneers in this inning tallying two runs. Up to the 6th inning the game was evenly contested, when the Pioneers began to run up their score through heavy batting and poor playing of the Pacifics. The latter club evidently were becoming demoralized and had they played with caution the result would have been a much closer game, and as it was, the score was lower than has been shown between any contesting this season. The Pioneers got in nine runs on the seventh inning and it was then an uphill game for the Pacifics to play to think of winning against the odds. The Pioneers in the eighth inning scored six and the Pacifics three—the game being virtually ended, as each side received a whitewash in the ninth inning, concluding the game with 27 to 17 runs in favor of the Pioneers. The playing of Speck as short stop, Matthews behind the bat, was the best for the Pacifics. Henderson, who has been out of practice failed to hold balls or bat as well as usual. Gearin, Bird and Whiting, for the Pioneers, carried off the honors in the field, and Sutherland's play at first was as usual, excellent. Wiley was substituted for Buchtel, as the Pioneers went to the bat in the third inning, the latter having been placed hors du combat through having a badly injured finger. His playing, considering that he has been out of practice for a month, was good. Mr. Warren, the Umpire, did not call strikes and balls as often as he might have done, and the decisions were not given clearly and quickly, so that considerable time was lost. We have never seen a match game of base ball where there was so much wrangling. The Pacifics had not evidently got over their anger caused by the manner in which the second game between these clubs had terminated, and they went in with a determination to win by browbeating the Umpire and the players opposed to them, which opened a continual exchange of ugly words between some of the members of each club. We do not wish it understood that all the members of the Pacifics entered into the disputes, but we must say they gained no friends by the high words used by them. It is true, several members of the Pioneers passed words with those who kept up the continual talk. That Umpire carried back to Oregon City a poor impression of certain players engaged in the contest last Saturday. We had hoped there would be no disputes, but those who were present can judge for themselves as to the truth of our remarks. The attendance was not as large as we have seen, though an unusual number of ladies were present. The next time these clubs meet, we trust there will be no disputes or interference with umpire and players. The action of two or three members of the Pacifics was shameful, and it will be to their credit to act with more reserve in the games to be played hereafter. They are excellent players, and with gentlemanly bearing and careful play, can beat or give the best club in the State all they can do to win. The subjoined tells the tale in brief:

FINALLY DECIDED.

It is an old but true saying that a man is known by the books he reads and the company he keeps. This saying is illustrative of the great sewing machine war, in which nearly all the second-class machines have played prominent parts, expending much ammunition and making forced marches attended with great loss. But our readers have not seen the name of the world renowned GROVER & BAKER SEWING MACHINE flourished before the people in the above connection, and this dignified reserve has established the popularity of the GROVER & BAKER SEWING MACHINE, now and forever. It stands on its respectability and merits. These machines make the ELASTIC STITCH and SHUTTLE STITCH, and will be sold on installments of $10 per month. W. T. Shanahan, agent, 71 First street.

850,000 Acres Land

IN SOUTHERN OREGON.

Title Perfect—U. S. Land Grant Fully Ce... ...

THE "PACIFIC LAND COMPANY," INCORPORATED with capital stock of 5,000 shares of par value of $240 each, have purchased the road and entire land grant of the "OREGON CENTRAL MILITARY ROAD COMPANY," consisting of over 850,000 acres of Agricultural, Grazing and Timber Lands,

Passing from Eugene City, (125 miles from Portland by Railroad), through the splendid "Lake Country," to Silver City, near the border of Idaho.

Each share of the PACIFIC LAND COMPANY thus representing now over 160 acres of land, and is UNASSESSABLE.

Three thousand shares belong to the Company, and will be offered for sale by us, the entire proceeds of which will go into the Treasury.

The first one thousand shares will be offered at $120 per share, UNITED STATES CURRENCY, ...y at the rate of 75 cents per acre. Every share will also be received at its par value of $240 in payment for land, as soon as the appraisals are made. Such share will then be cancelled and not reissued, and a deed given to the purchaser.

The land will be appraised at moderate rates, in accordance with its actual value, as soon as practicable, in sections of 640 acres, and at not less than $1 50 per acre, U. S. CURRENCY, and offered for sale. Actual settlers, however, always having preference.

We refer, as to the character of this magnificent grant of land, to CLARENCE KING, Esq., the U. S. Geologist for this coast, who is familiar with it from personal observation; also to the elaborate report of the Hon. B. J. Pengra, late Surveyor General of Oregon, on this road and lands, from which we quote: "There is but very little of the entire grant but what is valuable for either Farming, Grazing or Lumbering purposes."

As shares are cancelled, the average of acres to the remaining shares will naturally increase, and from cash sales dividends will be declared.

IMMIGRANTS,

BY BUYING THESE SHARES, CAN SECURE GOOD LANDS, WITH PERFECT TITLE, AT LESS THAN GOVERNMENT RATES.

For Custodians of Trust Funds, the shares of the PACIFIC LAND COMPANY combine absolute security, based on the lands, with promise of large returns, and no investment can be better for CHILDREN, as the value of the property must increase immensely in a few years.

Remittances for shares can be sent to us by Wells, Fargo & Co., or in registered letters.

Full particulars, maps and a descriptive pamphlet can be obtained at our office, where the subscription book for the shares is now open.

COLEMAN'S ... Dr. J. S. Col... ... Vol... EUCALYPTUS
...of Eucalyptus is a preparation combin...ing all the valuable medical qualities of the Eucalyptus, which is cultivated in nearly every California garden for its medical quality. Having become the household remedy for all diseases of the KIDNEYS, BLADDER and URINARY CANAL, and SEMINAL WEAKNESS. It seems to have a direct affinity for the GENITO-URINARY ORGANS and their surroundings, and cures them by its alterative, healing and balsamic properties more effectually than any other known remedy.

It is an invaluable remedy for all diseases of the mucous and serous membranes, such as BRONCHITIS, HACKING COUGH, NAUSEA DURING PREGNANCY, DYSPEPSIA, LEUCORRHŒA, etc.

This preparation is the result of Dr. Coleman's experiments with the medicinal properties of the tree in the U. S. Marine Hospital in San Francisco, in 1871 and 1872, where he had unusual facilities for testing the various methods of preparing the remedy, and its uses. It can be relied upon as certain to give the promised results, and hundreds of testimonials of its efficacy can be seen at his office, 405 Kearney street, San Francisco.

COLEMAN'S DOUBLE EXTRACT OF EUCALYPTUS is a powerful, yet harmless, febrifuge, and is a special preparation for the treatment of the malarious fevers of our interior valleys, and is warranted to cure any case of FEVER AND AGUE treated with it according to directions, while the baneful results of the usual Quinine and arsenical remedies of those diseases are entirely avoided.

FOR PHYSICIANS, Coleman's Fluid Extract of Eucalyptus in 1-lb bottles.

EUCALYPTUS Beware of imitations, and take none but COLEMAN'S. For sale everywhere, and by HODGE, CALEF & CO., Wholesale Druggists, Portland. Sole Agents for Oregon.

The Maine Democratic State Convention meets in Portland on August [illegible].

The New York Board of Health has declared the Washington Market stalls a nuisance.

Benjamin Rathbun, whose forgeries in New York made him so notorious just thirty-six years ago, died recently, aged 52.

E. B. Loyd, a wealthy and well known citizen of the Susquehanna valley, died at his residence in Albany, New York, July 21st, aged 74.

The Emperor of Austria visited the American Department of the Vienna Exposition on the 21st inst, but he declined with a certain curiosity to taste a glass of American champagne which an exhibitor offered him.

It is officially stated that His Majesty the Emperor of Austria will visit St Petersburg in October next. It is announced that his visit to the Russian Capital is in connection with a contemplated Russian Austrian alliance.

The Kansas stallion Smuggler is stated in a special dispatch from Olathe, Kansas, to have trotted a mile over the course at that place on the 23d inst in 2:19½. This horse was broken to trot less than a year ago and has been training but sixteen months.

A meeting of the leading Spanish Generals was held in Madrid on the 2d inst, when the present condition of Government affairs was the subject of discussion. General Concha, Esquerdo and others were present and declared their intention to adhere to the Government in the present struggle against the Carlists. It was proposed to raise a force of 80,000 troops, to be used as a reserve, in addition to the force now in the field.

Intelligence has been received from the Canadian Pacific railway surveying party under Mr Moberly up to the 1st ultimo. They were at McLeod River Postage all well and in excellent spirits and extremely anxious to get on and complete their work to the Saskatchewan, as soon as possible. From Myrtle Rock, which is called the gate of the Rocky Mountains, the country traversed is rough and not too favorable for railway construction, but it was believed the worst was over, and they were near the border of a better land.

There seems to be a misunderstanding in regard to the commitment under which Vogt is held—whether he is held by the United States District Court or the United States Commissioner. If it be under committal by the Court, the State Department has no right to order his release. Marshal Fisk, however, considers that Vogt is held by him as by the order of the Commissioner and will release the prisoner as soon as he receives orders from the State Department, unless ordered otherwise by United States District Attorney Bliss.

The Yreka Union of the 19th inst says: "John Caldwell informs us that the grasshoppers are eating up every green thing in Hot Spring and Big valleys. The meadows are entirely destroyed by them. He tells of one field of wheat of ten or twelve acres, which he saw at 1 o'clock P M one day, when it looked as nice and green as any field of grain he had ever seen. Returning by it, two hours afterward, he found that it had been invaded by an army of grasshoppers, and that its destruction was as thorough and complete as if it had been overrun by a thousand head of cattle. They are doing an immense amount of damage in those valleys."

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

Financial.

SATURDAY EVENING, July 26, 1873

Gold in New York to-day, 115⅜.

Portland Legal Tender rates, 85½ buying; 86½ selling.

Gold bars are quotable at 800 fine.

Wheat in Liverpool—Average California, 11s 5d@11s 11d; Club, 1[illegible] @12s 3d.

Mail advices from New York up to the 17th show that the money market has been working easily since the payment of the July dividends, and a healthy tone seems to prevail in financial circles. The chief item of importance during the week was the [illegible] of one per cent. in the rate of discount by the Bank of England, due to lower rates for money in open market and the increase of specie. Call loans were easily made in New York at three to four per cent., and the rates on time have been from five per cent. for sixty days, to seven per cent. gold interest to December 31st.

Foreign exchange has been strong—the reduction of the Bank of England rate to five per cent., and the quotation of discount outside one-half per cent lower, having brought sixty days' sterling to 109½ to 109¾, sight drafts reached 110⅜ to 110½, and cable transfers were done as high as 110 5-16.

The bank statement of the past week is less favorable than that of its immediate predecessor, showing as it does, a decrease of $372,275 in the legal reserve. The reserve of twenty five per cent previously reported, amounted to $16,808,000. Yesterday it was $16,435,725. The increase in deposits was $6,547 [illegible]; in circulation, $15,600. The specie increase was $1 [illegible]6,600; in legal tenders, $161,900. The total increase of liabilities, therefore, was $6 563 100.

The main features of the New York money market during the week ending July 19th were the advance in foreign exchange, a fresh activity in gold, due in some degree to the rise in exchange which made it profitable to ship coin, and a liveliness in the stock market, quite in contrast with the flat condition of things for a month past.

The shipments of coin for Europe on Saturday, the 12th, were the heaviest of the season amounting to $1,800,000 in gold, and $350,000 in silver bars. The whole specie shipments of the week ending July 12th, are reported at $4,124,588 of which $3 012 000 [the Custom House reports $2,512 000] was in American gold coin, $1,112,588 in silver bullion, etc. The same week last year (the second week after the July interest disbursements began), the shipments were $4,[illegible], of which $4 [illegible]0,000 was in American gold coin. The Treasury of the United States held this time last year $71,394,000 coin balances, and the outstanding gold circulation was $[illegible]9,000. The present coin [illegible] are $89,828,000, and the gold circulation, $44,258,000. The New York banks now hold $34,[illegible]000 gold and gold notes of the Treasury, against $28 223,000 this time last year.

[illegible] Wool Market.

The following on the wool market is from the New York Journal of Commerce, of July 12th:

There has been more active inquiry during the past few days and a fair business comparatively at [illegible] figures. Advices from the other side state prices are advanced in the English market 1½d on Australian wools and dealers here carry their stocks with increased confidence, as it is anticipated a portion of the stock will be exported should the present advance in prices be maintained. The market for domestic wools is generally quoted quiet but a trifle steadier tone is noted. Prices as yet are no higher. Advices from the West state that all through the wool growing districts there is the same firm feeling among growers and 45c is the general asking price. The new clip is in unusually good condition this year, coming out clean and light and mostly long staple. It is estimated that up to the present time about 200 000 lbs have been received in this market, which sold at prices ranging from 17a 52½c for prime descriptions. It is reported that very few sales have been effected in the interior at 45c, although this is the asking price, 43c being the current figure for actual transactions. The new clip is coming forward very slowly, as the present state of the goods market will not warrant manufacturers in paying the advanced figures.

Coffee.

The American Grocer, July 12, contains the following on the coffee market:

Rio coffees declined ½c gold and closed steady but strong at the decline. The last advices from Rio show increasing daily receipts and comparatively large sales and shipments to the United States. Nothing more definite is yet advised concerning the new crop, but as it will soon commence to come in from the interior, enough will soon be known to determine the future of prices. Stocks here and at the other seaboard ports are slowly accumulating. Maracaibos continue to arrive, but having been chiefly sold to arrive are firmly held, and are going into consumption thereby decreasing the demand for other descriptions.

Java coffees are held very firmly, the result of the Penang sale having reached here on Monday. As yet it is not known if any was bought for this country, but, if so, the prices paid will make the cost laid down there somewhat higher than the cost of stocks laid down here. The late free arrivals of Maracaibo coffee have supplied the demand and there is now very little inquiry from any source.

Shipping Intelligence.

The steamship Ajax from San Francisco for this port, sailed from San Francisco to-day.

The British ship Middlesex with wheat for England was towed down the river this morning by the steamer Annie Stewart. She will complete her cargo at Astoria.

The bark Hermine sailed yesterday from Astoria for Cork, with 26,883 bushels of wheat valued at $24 660 and 1 500 cases of salmon valued at $12 000.

Bark Rival cleared yesterday at Astoria for San Francisco with 3,8[illegible] cases of salmon, 107 barrels salmon and 60 tons of railroad bars, in addition to her cargo taken on in this district.

It promotes the GROWTH, PRESERVES the COLOR, and increases the Vigor and BEAUTY of the HAIR.

OVER THIRTY YEARS AGO LYON'S KATHAIRON FOR THE HAIR was first placed in the market by Prof. E. Thomas Lyon, a graduate of Princeton College. It increases the Growth and Beauty of the Hair. It is a delightful dressing. It eradicates dandruff. It prevents the Hair from turning gray. It keeps the head cool, and gives the hair a rich, soft, glossy appearance.
